BRITISH FRONT EAST OF AMIENS STORM CENTER

Somme River is Scene of Fierce Battle Now Being Waged

(By the Associated Press)
The British front east of Amiens, on each side of the Somme river, seems to be the storm center of the battle front in France. Here the Australians, assisted by American detachments, surged forward on July 4 and drove the Germans out of the village of Hamel and the Vaire and Hamel woods, to the south at the same time launching a secondary attack on the German positions north of the Somme. Since that time the lines before Amiens have been very active. The Germans have been repulsed in an attempt to retake the village of Hamel and the wooded positions of the Australians further south. The British official report says that the enemy was stopped easily, but the Germans claim to have checked the British forces east of Hamel and to have thrown them back to their original lines at Villers-Bretonneux. With the exception of aerial combats the American front has been calm.

The German official statement tells of British attacks in the Ypres region adding that these assaults have been repulsed. Heavy artillery fire in the neighborhood is reported from London.

In the meantime the French have been content to hold and consolidate their new positions near Molin-Soult-Touvent and Autrech, northwest of Soissons wherein two recent French attacks the Germans suffered severe casualties and lost many prisoners. The French war office says that during the past day there has been heavy artillery firing in the neighborhood of Cutry and Mont Gobert which is on the front southwest of Soissons, where the French won ground by a dashing attack last week.

Italian forces operating near the mouth of the Piave have continued to make progress in recent fighting and have taken more than 400 prisoners, as well as a battery of cannon and many machine guns.

In the mountain region the Italians have extended their lines northeast of Monte Grappa and repulsed desperate counterattacks by the Austrians against positions taken from the enemy in the Italian drives a week ago. Stockholm reports that Finland is expected to declare war on the entente allies. This is probably the result of German pressure incident to the landing of allied forces at Kola, on the Murman coast. It has been reported that German and Finnish troops are pushing northward toward the port of Kola to seize vast stores transported there before Russia's collapse as a factor in the war. Two rumors of international dissension have become current. One is to the effect that the death of Mohammed V, Sultan of Turkey was not due to natural causes but the result of a revolt in that country. The other comes from South Africa, where it is reported considerable unrest exists and where strong measures are being taken to cope with the situation.

Enemy Attacks Repulsed.
Berlin, July 5.—Via London.—The official communication from general headquarters issued today follows:

"East of Ypres, strong attacks launched by the enemy were repulsed. On both sides of the Somme yesterday morning the enemy infantry attacked after a strong artillery preparation by the British. On the north bank of the river, the attacks broke down before our line with sanguinary losses.

"South of the Somme the enemy penetrated into the village and the wood of Hamel. On the height east of Hamel his attack was frustrated by our counter-attacks. East of Villers-Bretonneux we threw the enemy back into his position of departure.

"In the evening the fighting activity revived on nearly the whole front of the army of the Crown Prince Rupprecht and kept up with increased intensity during the night especially in yesterday's battle sector. There has been increased fighting activity on the west bank of the Avre and on both sides of the Aisne."

Further Gains Reported.
Washington, July 5.—Further gains against the Austrians and repulse of counter-attacks were reported today in an official despatch from Italian headquarters describing operations yesterday. The message follows:

U. S. SHIPBUILDERS EXCEED OBJECTIVES

Shipping Board Reports That 474,404 Tons Were Ready to Be Put Overboard July 4th—Actual Launchings were 82.

American shipbuilders went beyond their objectives in the Independence Day drive for new tonnage. The shipping board announced today that the workmen started out with the expectation of launching 439,886 deadweight tons, but late reports to the board today showed that 474,404 tons had been gotten ready to be put overboard. The actual number of ships launched was 82. The launching of eleven others was held up by a freshet in the Columbia river while two others stuck on the ways. They are expected to be released without great delay.

As a result of the Independence Day launchings July and August deliveries are expected to show tremendous increases as compared with preceding months. Machinery is beginning to come thru for the wooden hulls, many of which have been delayed after launching by the lack of engines.

War Vessels Launched.
Washington, July 5.—Seventeen American war vessels were launched on Independence Day, the navy department announced tonight and the keels of eight others were laid. The craft put overboard included fourteen destroyers, a gunboat and two mine sweepers.

The gunboat, the Asheville, S. C., navy yard. One of the mine sweepers, the Swan Hill, was put over by the Alabama Drydock Co., Mobile, Ala., and the other, the Oriole, was launched by the Staten Island New York Ship Building company.

The eight keels laid were for destroyers at the plant of the Bethlehem Union Iron Works, San Francisco.

That plant launched eight destroyers, the Newport News, Va., yard, three; Cramps, Philadelphia, two; and the Fore River plant, Quincy, Mass., one. The name of these craft previously had been announced.

BILL AUTHORIZES ISSUANCE OF BONDS
WASHINGTON, July 5.—An administration bill authorizing issuance of $8,000,000,000 additional in Liberty Bonds and providing an additional $1,500,000,000 for loans to the allies, recently passed by the house was passed late today by the senate without amendment or a roll call. It now goes to the president.

The bill, which was recommended by the treasury department in anticipation of the Fourth Liberty Loan in October, increases to $22,000,000,000 the authorizations for bond issues made since the war began. The new bonds would bear interest at not more than 4 1/4 per cent. There was no opposition to the bill and comparatively brief debate. Senator Simmons of North Carolina, chairman of the finance committee in explaining the measure said the government's requirements this fiscal year are estimated at about $24,000,000,000, but that this might have to be increased.

Senators Smoot of Utah and McCumber of North Dakota said the measure should authorize $12,000,000,000 additional bonds, while Senator Smoot declared that the country's production capacity is not large enough to cause expenditure this year of $24,000,000,000.

EXCURSION STEAMER OVERTURNS IN ILLINOIS RIVER AT WESLEY CITY

Large Number of Lives are Lost When Steamer Columbia Jams Against Peoria Side of River in Fog—Boat Sinks Rapidly.

BULLETIN

PEORIA, Ill., July 6.—The number lost by the sinking of the Columbia is placed at 175 by the chief of police of Pekin. A message from him says his estimate is based on information gathered as to the probable number of passengers carried.

PEORIA, Ill., July 6.—At 2 o'clock this morning it is impossible to estimate the loss of life following the sinking of the Steamer Columbia at Wesley City, almost mid-way between Peoria and Pekin. It is reported that hundreds of lives have been lost and reports from the scene of the disaster say the wildest confusion prevails.

There were 450 excursionists on board the boat when it left Alfresco Park, Peoria, on the return trip to Pekin. The boat ran into the Peoria shore in a fog that was prevailing. It backed away and began sinking immediately, water rushing thru a large hole in the bow. The boat instantly began sending out signals of distress and several water craft from this city rushed to the scene of the tragedy. None of these have yet returned.

Loss of life is said to have resulted largely from the panic that followed immediately on the boat as it began to sink. Doctors and nurses were rushed to the scene from Peoria. Some of the survivors have been taken to Pekin on a relief train.

Miss Pauline Binzel of Pekin, who was aboard the boat told the following story of the disaster:

"The steamer had three decks. I was on the upper one. On that below the dancing was going on. The bottom deck was occupied principally by men who were talking and smoking.

"I do not believe many of the persons on the first two decks who constituted by far the larger portion of the crowd could have escaped.

"I was chatting with friends. We felt the boat rise out of the river. It was clouded with fog. There was a crash for a moment, no one moved and then almost everybody rushed to one side of the boat. The crew and the officers as soon as they realized what was happening cried for the passengers to even the load but it was too late. The Columbia tilted and then suddenly overturned. I was thrown into the water.

"When I came to the surface people were swimming about too dazed to know what direction to follow. The mist hung low above the overturned boat, from which came horrifying confusion of cries for aid.

"Those on the lower decks seemed to have been trapped. I swam about and then a man came to my aid. A portion of the boat remained above the water. There other men were behaving like heroes.

"Some were holding women in their arms and others were attempting to keep their heads above the river by clinging to the clothing. The accident occurred about opposite Wesley City. The steamer had rammed an obstruction near the east bank. It was not long before the sound of the screams for help attracted attention on shore. Row boats began to approach.

"The rescuers began to pick up the survivors. After a moment the boat neared me. A man who was supporting me called to the rowers to take me in. We rowed a distance—it seemed about four blocks before we finally reached shore. A motor car brought me to Pekin."

The steamer was in use in the regular excursion trade along the river. It was about 150 feet long and was considered staunch. The boat reached the park about 10 o'clock. The excursionists spent about half an hour there during which there was band music and dancing. The crowd was homeward bound when the crash came.

As soon as the news reached Peoria, relief parties were organized. Every doctor in the city who could be summoned was directed to report to the depot. A special train was made up at once and rushed to the scene.

A pigeon arrived at the Royal Air Force station bearing this message from Roe:

"On the water, attacked by three Huns. This was the last information from him until it was ascertained he was a prisoner. He was landed on January 2nd from the naval air station at Pensacola, Florida, for duty with the naval aviation force in France."

HOMewardBOUND

SHIP TORPEDOED
SIX OF CREW LOST

Boat's Officers, All Other Men Lost At French Port

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The American army port Covington, homeward bound after landing thousand soldiers in France was torpedoed and sunk the war zone last Monday night. Six members of the crew are missing, but all other men, with the ship's officers, have been landed at a French port. No personnel or passengers were aboard. The navy department's announcement tonight of the torpedoing of the Covington said that the officers and men were seriously injured.

Apparently some of them were hurt, but the number killed was not given in Vice-Admiral Sims' despatch.

The Men Missing.
Ernest C. Anderson, first man, Lynn, Mass.

Joseph R. Bowden, seaman, Mountain Lake, N. J.

Ambrose E. Ford, fireman, Somerville, Mass.

William Henry Lynch, fireman, Manchester, N. H.

Albert S. Payne, seaman, West New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y.

Lloyd H. Silvermail, seaman, Bainbridge, N. Y.

Was 608 Feet Long.
The Covington formerly was the Hamburg-American liner Cincinnati, which was laid up at Boston and taken over when the United States entered the war. She was 608 feet long, of 16,339 gross tonnage and had a speed of fifteen and a half knots an hour.

Third Troop Ship Sunk.
The Covington is the second of the great German liners seized at the outbreak of the war to be sent down by Germany's sea wolves and is the third American troop ship to be destroyed. All were homeward bound. The former Hamburg-American liner President Lincoln sunk last May 31 in the Antilles, formerly a liner, was sent down October 17.

Struck Monday Night.
The Covington was struck at 9:17 o'clock Monday night, while proceeding with a fleet of other transports conveyed by destroyers. The submarine was not sighted. The transport remained afloat until Tuesday when efforts were made by another vessel and two tugs to tow her to port but she was too badly damaged to keep afloat.

Submarine Not Sighted.
"The torpedo struck just forward of the engine room bulkhead," said the navy department's announcement, "and the engine room or fire room were rapidly flooded. With its motive power gone the vessel was helpless and facing the possibility of the torpedoing of another ship in the convoy the Covington was temporarily abandoned. This was done in excellent order and the officers and crew were taken on board a destroyer. The submarine was not seen."

CAPITAL COMMITTEE OUTLINES POLICIES

Many Municipal Expenditures not Approved by Organization Congress Created—Suggests Strict Conservation During War.

The question as to the propriety of expenditures for private and public improvements in these war times is often asked. Some months ago congress thru the war finance corporation act, created a capital issues committee. The purpose in creating this committee was to assist in the conservation of financial resources, labor and material, so that these resources may be kept available for uses essential in the prosecution of the war. Recently the committee issued a lengthy circular dealing with the objects and policies of the committee and making various statements with reference to expenditures which are not looked upon with approval. Circular 11 relates to municipal expenditures and is of interest in every city throughout the country, for no doubt improvements of one kind or another are now being made in practically every city.

It will be noted from the section, which is quoted below, that the committee does not approve the building of new school houses, the extension of water works, or the building of sidewalks.

It is realized that this section, with others, was written for general application with the knowledge that it cannot possibly fit all cases. So those who are familiar with the local water supply situation believe that the committee after being acquainted with local facts would give approval to water works extension here. This would be especially likely because of the dependency of three state institutions upon the local water supply. The section referred to reads as follows:

Municipal Expenditures.

"The amount of capital invested in municipal bonds every year is very large, and if this amount, or a substantial portion thereof, could be saved, the funds of investors and savings banks would be available for the corresponding amounts for the use of the National Government. There are certain classes of municipal improvements and expenditures which should wholly cease, such as parks and betterments solely designed for purposes of appearance or architecture. All others should be curtailed and postponed until after the war whenever possible. This applies to public buildings, hospitals, street and road construction, waterworks extensions, sewerage and drainage improvements, sidewalks, etc. Ordinarily only a small proportion of the improvements planned by a municipality are of such a character that they can not be postponed for a period without endangering the health or welfare of the community.

"For example, it is said that no schoolhouses have been built in England since the war except in munition centers, where temporary an inexpensive structures have been erected. In this country, if such additional structures are necessary, such temporary structures should be resorted to whenever possible.

"The fact that the expense is to be repaid wholly or in part by special assessments does not make any difference.

"The fact that there appears to be labor available is not a true criterion that they can not be postponed. In many parts of the country are in such need of labor that labor organizations are making comprehensive efforts to transport surplus labor wherever most needed."

MEXICAN NEWSPAPER EDITORS TOUR U. S.

Is One of the Steps Which it is Hoped May Thwart the German Propaganda in Mexico—Visit Regarded as of Supreme Importance.

Washington, July 5.—The present tour of nearly one hundred Mexican newspaper editors thru the United States is regarded by American officials in touch with Latin American affairs as far more important than it may seem to the casual reader. It is one of the steps which it is hoped may thwart the German propaganda in Mexico and defeat the sinister effort to align the republic south of the Rio Grande against the United States.

President Wilson openly recognized this factor when he addressed the editors in private audience at the White House, and then insisted that his speech should first be read by the Mexican people before it was printed in the newspapers of the United States.

"The stories of German atrocities in Belgium" said one of the American officials in touch with Latin affairs do not seriously disturb the average Mexican.

"Of course, the better classes, those more highly educated, have the same feeling regarding the treatment of Belgium as the rest of the civilized world, but this class is comparatively small. The greater part of the Mexican people have seen so much horror in recent revolutions that another horror has little effect upon them.

"The Germans in Mexico have persistently impressed upon the Mexicans that German efficiency and forehandedness, as well as German valor, are going to win the war. Every slight victory is immensely magnified when related to the Mexicans. An example of this was shown when the German press in Mexico reported the sinking of sixteen American battleships off our coast recently by U-boats when, as a matter of fact, a few coasting vessels only were sunk.

"The Mexican editors are sending back to their papers stories telling something of what the United States is doing to win the war. These stories cannot fail to impress the readers, as the Mexican likes a winner. The visitors have seen many things that very few Americans have seen; the wonderful work of our shipyards, munition plants and big gun works. They are more and more impressed not only with the fact that the United States is in the war to win but with the fact that the Allies with the help of the United States will surely win the war.

"This is the message the Mexican editors are sending back to Mexico daily—that Germany is doomed. They fully appreciate the fact that the United States has not yet reached her maximum of productiveness either of men or material and that the determination of this country to make the world safe for democracy is unshakable. And they realize that when the war is over the United States will have a tremendous trained army.

"This visit of editors from our sister republic is of supreme importance at this time when the Germans in their country have control of a large portion of the press and are doing their utmost to create trouble of serious nature between the two countries."

GEN. DIAZ LED ITALY TO GREAT VICTORY

Leader Little Known to Fame
Planned and Executed Successful
Work Against Austrians.

The accompanying story of the career of Gen. Armando Diaz, who has won fame in the recent successful operations of Italian troops was prepared for publication by R. E. Renaud, acting for the committee on Public Information.

Tho the whole world is ringing with the name of General Armando Diaz creator of the greatest victory his people have celebrated since they were knit together in a modern nation, he is one of the least known men in Italy. Too short a time in supreme command of the army to have gathered about him the tradition of an anecdote woven around most successful generals his own reticence and modesty have kept him somewhat out of the public eye.

Yet his personal characteristics are clearly illustrated in the battle which has just been fought. More than anything else it seemed to be the almost instant reaction of the Italians, their extraordinary promptness to attack from defensive positions, which disorganized the Austrian invasion, piled it up like a railroad wreck in the mountains and left it stranded on the banks of the Piave at Montello. This "certain suddenness" is General Diaz to a "T". Moreover the readiness, scientific preparation against any eventuality. That also is the way General Diaz works—secretly and thoroughly.

In last year's disaster at Caporetto, which cost Italy nearly all the gains she had won in the war and much of her own territory, it was said to have been central Italian troops and largely Neapolitans who succumbed to enemy propaganda and broke before the German attack. Yet General Diaz is a Neapolitan born under the shadow of Vesuvius fifty six years ago. If Naples felt a special concern for the catastrophe at Caporetto she also has cause for special rejoicing over the victory on the Piave.

Of Spanish Extraction. General Diaz comes of a noble family. As the name suggests it is of Spanish origin and the Italian branch doubtless dates from one of the frequent Spanish invasions of centuries ago when Italy was the battlefield for the world.

Like Generals Foch and Petain General Diaz began his career as an artillery officer. He was educated at the famous Military Academy of Turin and was graduated as a second Lieutenant of artillery, in which branch of the service he remained until he was made a Captain. But there is in Italy a still higher education for army officers known as the School of War for which sixty pupils are selected every year from the entire army. General Diaz was one of these sixty and year after year was among the few chosen to serve on the General staff.

He remained with the General Staff practically throughout his career except when, reestablishing contact with the troops, he served as commander of a battalion of infantry and later of a regiment. On the General Staff he was for a long time head of the Personnel Office. It was there that he called into play much of the tact and impartiality which are still two of his distinguishing traits.

Won Renown in Libyan.

During the Libyan Campaign he served in the field as Colonel of the 33d Regiment of Infantry. It was the first Battle of Zanzur (June 8th 1912) that he proved his quality as a commander of sharp decision. The main Italian positions had been assailed by the Fanatical Arabs in six successive waves and the troops were in imminent danger of giving way. It was then that Colonel Diaz, posted on the left with his regiment, delivered an impetuous bayonet charge upon the right flank of the enemy, throwing him into confusion and carrying the day for the Italians. Colonel Diaz was also present at the second battle of Zanzur. It was these two great actions, the most important of the Libyan war that decided the issue and after the second victory peace was signed by Turkey within a month.

At the present war General Diaz was head of the Office of Operations at the Supreme Command. He showed himself such an excellent organizer with so much directing genius that he was naturally in line for the chief command when the disaster in the mountains necessitated a change of leaders.

Fought Way Across the Carso.

Before this however he held command of the Eighteenth Army Corps of the Third Army, including the famous Brigade of Grenadier Guards and the Lario Brigade, which so distinguished themselves on the Carso. The Carso is a high and desolate plateau Gorizia and the Adriatic Sea. By the middle of last summer the Italians under General Diaz had forced their lines half way across it in the direction of Trieste. The fighting became very fierce at the little village of Selo and at the Dosso Fatti, a strong position which formed a bastion for the Austrian right flank. But Diaz' men in repeated and ferocious drives took both places. They were holding them when the defection of a part of the Second Army far to the north of them forced a retreat of the whole line right back and down to the plains of Venetia.

General Diaz is described as extremely likable by all who know him. He is somewhat under medium height and rather dark, with black hair and chapped moustache now turning to gray. He is a constant smoker but his manner strikes the observer as calm and even contemplative except when he is issuing orders when he becomes most incisive and direct. However, he is not a great talker and is known as a man of few words and those concise and meaty. His brain seems to be both analytic, for he not only knows how to plan with greatest elaboration but has the faculty of getting his orders executed at once and down to the last detail. Like Generalissimo Foch he believes firmly in the offensive and holds that no army which is not aggressive at the right moment can hope to win.

Since the Battle of the Piave General Diaz has already been advanced seventy numbers. However it is almost certain that he will be raised from Lieutenant General to the position of "Generale d'Esercito". There are at present only two men in Italy holding the rank. One is the King and the other is General Canova who commanded the Italian armies during the Libyan war.

CARDUI A SPLENDID TONIC

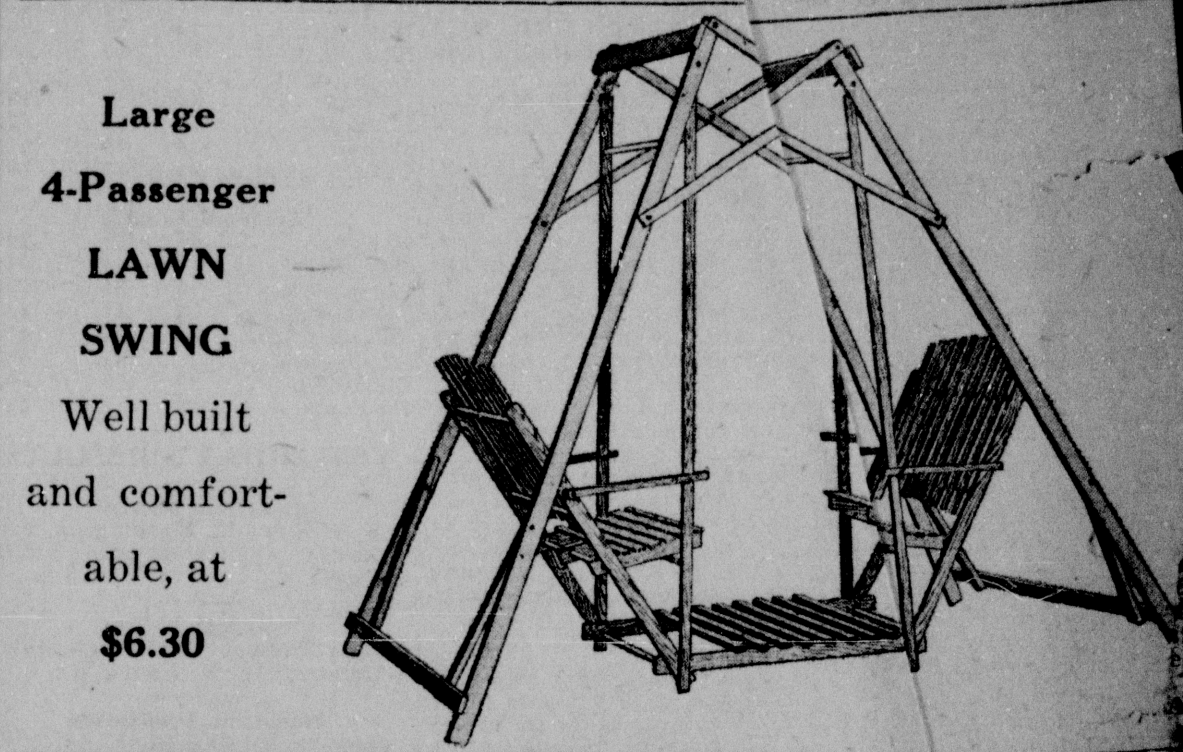

For Women, Says Hixson Lady, Who Took This Medicine On Her Doctor's Advice

Hixson, Tenn.—Mrs. J. B. Gadd of this place, makes the following statement regarding her experience with Cardui: "I was . . . I suffered with a pain in my left side; could not sleep at night for this pain—always in the left side. My feet and legs were terribly swollen. I was almost in bed."

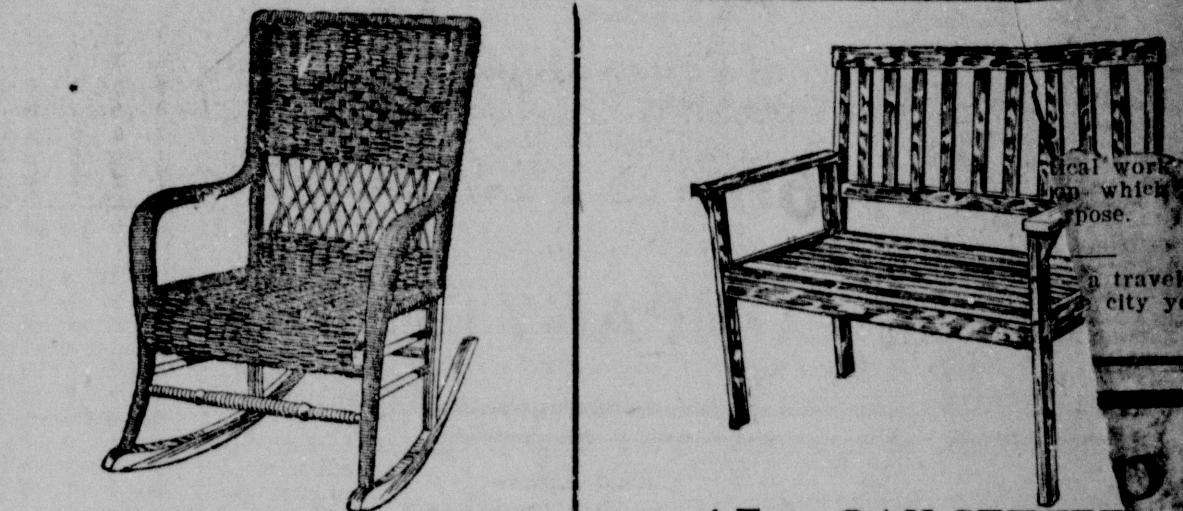

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me, and after my baby came I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there. I at first let it go, but I began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did. The last Cardui I took made me much better, and, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble. I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

If you feel weak, tired, worn-out, or suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It must be a good medicine for women, for many thousands have voluntarily told, just as Mrs. Gadd did, of the good it has done them. Ask some lady friend who has tried Cardui. She will tell you how it helped her. Then get a bottle from your nearest druggist.

Triple Wins in Tenth.
Philadelphia, July 5.—With the aid of two pinch runners and a hit batsman with the bases full the Athletics rallied in the ninth today and tied the score, only to have Boston win out in the tenth when after two were out Ruth drew Geary's seventh base and scored on Melins' triple to right. The score was 4 to 3, making an even break of the four game series. The score:

CONCORD MINISTER INJURED IN COLLISION

Rev. Thomas Simons Suffers Injured Back by Collision of Tugboat—Union Services Will Begin Sunday.
Concord, July 5.—Hubert West-er moved into the Brockhouse property across from the church, on Tuesday.
Rev. Thomas Simons had a collision on Sunday night with another buggy and was thrown out upon his back and sustained some painful bruises. The mare he was driving got loose and ran on to Concord. It is supposed that the driver going north was about asleep and failed to turn out. Mr. Simons is getting along all right.
The union services will begin next Sunday night at the M. E. church with a patriotic service of unusual interest to which all the church goes in this vicinity are urged to attend. The sermon will be by one of the three pastors. Which one, you can't guess.

"With the Colors"

Letters of Interest from Jacksonville Boys in the Country's Service.

From Camp Shelby.

The letter printed below was received recently by Samuel Johnson of Litchberry from his son, A. E. Johnson, one of the Morgan county boys now in training at Camp Shelby, Miss.

Camp Shelby, Mississippi, June 29, 1918.

Dear Family and Friends, etc., and so on:

I received a letter from Emma I believe just yesterday, one from E. C. M. and Eva Lee—That is about all I can recall at present. I got the six months stock of provisions that ball of binder twine and etc. About the first thing that was done with that binder twine was to convert it into a clothes line. Now I suppose the next thing will be clothes pins and a gas washer and we will be completely equipped in the wash line.

I am glad my suit case found its way back, but you did not mention any underwear and I sent back that had never been worn, $1.50 each.

I would like to have been there when you had all of those young soldiers there for dinner. But of course I get to eat with a bunch of soldiers each and every day. We sure pried into those cakes and those other canned goods, and etc.

The only time I get in a hurry on my own accord is when the call for mail is sounded. There are very few mail calls but there is something for me. I think some of the boys run from their tents up to where the mail is handed out and I bet some of them run one hundred miles back and forth before they get any mail.

Yesterday we were out at the rifle range which is about eight miles distant. We started Thursday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock and arrived there a great deal before sundown. Some of the men fell down and had to be hauled in, but I was feeling better when I got there than when I started. We had gone only about two miles when it began to rain. We didn't stop for rain any more than if there was no such thing. When we got there we were wet to the hide, shoes were full of water. We were sure were full of water. We would wade thru mud holes just the same as if there were none. I thought about Sherman's march to the sea. All of our officers were along with us and they got just as wet as we. There were about 700 or 800 of us, I think. I got to shoot my rifle about 37 times. I got another new rifle and turned my Springfield back in. The one that I have now is a patent of the Enfield rifle, sure some rifle.

We started back Friday afternoon about three o'clock. We had not gone over about two miles when one fellow fell out in the brush and said that he could go no further. One of the corporals went out and got him, put him back in line and said, "Go with us," and he did. He looked to be in fairly good shape when he got to camp.

Tell Mabel I wanted to know if she was going to get married as she is getting a new dress. Tell her that I want to know who the man is. Say did Ed Me get the letter I sent him and I sent Oliver one, did he get it?

I want to thank you again for that box of refreshments and you said something of sending fried chicken down here, do you think that it would keep so long? Are there any of those harvest apples this year? As we were tramping along the other day we saw a lot of peaches just about ripe, say they looked good to me. But of course we had no time to argue with a peach. Just before we started home I went to the canteen and got me a box of cookies, stuck them in my shirt. I marched beside a corporal all the time so we had cookies for lunch. I started out with a canteen full of water and so did he. He drank all of his and then helped me drink mine.

Well I am going to close again and write to some one else as I suppose you will be tired when you read this much, so good by and don't forget to write and continue to write. Feeling finer or even better. Some of the boys feet are sore today, but not mine.

A. E. Johnson.

At Laredo, Texas.

L. B. Haynes has received the following from his nephew, E. J. Haynes.

June 30, 1918.

Mr. L. B. Haynes, Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Uncle:

I am well and hope you are well.

We have been drilling steadily and will soon go to the rifle range. Will be there about two weeks and then we will be assigned to our company and will be seasoned soldiers in the regular army.

All of the Jacksonville boys are well and stand up to the work fine. Ten are in the Sixth Co., (Ingram, Sibert, Ranson, Kehli, Sturges, Richards, Wolcott, Smith, Vedder, McDaniel). This is the crack company of the new regiment. Ten are in the Tenth Co., (Evans, Greenwalt, Cowgurt, Erdgott, Sentney, Hansen, Fernandes, Herberg, Bussey and myself), while Goode and Lucht are in the eighth Co.

The weather is sure warm. Hot winds blow quite frequently but the heat and are taking on flesh. I have been transferred to the hospital corps, but would have preferred to stay in the infantry. We are placed where we can be of the most use, therefore I was willing to make the change.

We went on a long hike, carrying our rifles and packs. Several had sore shoulders when we got back, but everybody was singing or talking.

We are anxious to complete our training and get orders to go "Over there."

Have been into town several times. It is a pretty little city, about 20,000 population. About ninety per cent Mexican. We sometimes think that we are already out of the U. S. A.

When we are falling out for reveille we can hear the bugles sounding across the river, calling out the Mexican troops. There are a great many Mexicans in the 37th regiment.

We receive mail twice a day and it is sure a welcome sound when we hear the shout "Mail Ho." The smokes received are sure appreciated as we don't like the tobacco we get here.

Will close for this time with best wishes.

Your nephew,

Pvt. Elmer J. Haynes,

Post Hospital,

Laredo, Texas.

From Camp Taylor.

Mrs. A. A. Todd has received the following from her brother, Carl Stringham at Camp Taylor:

Camp Taylor, June 30, 1918.

Sunday morning.

Dear Sis and All:

Well I will write you a few lines to let you know we arrived all O. K. When we got to camp we had to walk about 3 miles to where we stay and believe me it sure was some walk. Harry Franz and Ed Ratcliff had to drop out of line but they are all right this morning. Well we will be examined this morning at 11:30 and probably will get our shots tomorrow morning. We have got to stay in quarantine for three weeks and then we get our regular uniforms. We all got some overalls last night. They are those brown ones all in one piece. Tell Pete I want him to get the guitar tuned up for I will be back in a day or so to have some concerts. Ha Ha. Ha. Tell Betty Jane across the street I will send her a car one of these days. Lee is right up stairs in the same building I am in. You have not got much time to get lonesome for everybody is full of pep here.

I will send the suit case back some time this week. Tell all the kids I will send them a card one of these days before long. Where was mama when we left? I did not see her. Was she close to where you were standing. Well I guess I will close for this time as I have got to get ready to be examined.

With Army in France.

John Sloan who has been with a hospital unit in France for more than a year past writes an interesting letter to his mother, Mrs. Terrence Sloan of 939 East Lafayette avenue. Mr. Sloan tells of the destruction of a fine British hospital by the Huns. He also expresses the belief that the war will not last much longer. His letter follows:

U. S. Army, France.

June 1, 1918.

Dear Mother:

I suppose by this time you have received my letters telling of my leave, which I spent in Paris—at least I hope you have. I note in your last two letters that you are not receiving all of my mail and I surely am not getting half of yours; this is easily understood when realizing the great difficulties of transportation beyond certain points.

Mother, you don't know how badly I felt upon hearing that Francis had enlisted in the army. I realize only too well what he meant to you, especially since James' enlistment, and Francis always seemed so settled and satisfied at home—no resemblance at all to the restless nature of James and myself. Did you not try to prevent his joining? If you sent him away with your consent, then God bless you for your wholehearted, unselfish patriotism—you have surely "done your bit."

I hope, however, that the whole thing is over before either of them is sent to France, and I think it will be. The Germans have started another vicious offensive, and are paying a dreadful price in lives for the little ground that they gain. Nothing could drive them to it but hunger and it looks like their last "kick." I mean by this that after this they will be on the defensive.

I suppose you have read of their latest atrocities—the bombing of hospitals; this is not a new trick for them; they simply resumed it with renewed violence. In three nights completely destroyed one of the best hospitals for battle casualties that we have over here. It is a British hospital far behind the lines and was equipped for special treatment of fractured bones, cases too serious to move to England and the most helpless patient there is so far as they are waging, absolutely desperate.

In your last letters you say that the family is suffering with la-grippe; I hope it is not serious and that you are all taking the best of care of yourselves and of each other. My health is perfect.

I was mighty glad to hear of Tanner Sweeney's promotion; I envy him in the rank he holds. No one in civil life can realize what a difference there is between even the highest ranking non-commissioned officer and a commissioned officer—the former is still classified as an enlisted man. That is why I was so anxious to have James and Francis get in line for a commission before enlisting. Winning a commission over here on the field would of course, carry with it more honor and greater satisfaction to the one who receives it, but due to the fact that the conscripts are bringing over more officers than they are allowed, basing their percentage on the number of boys who have been over here for over a year now, we volunteers haven't a chance, and the boys are growing pretty sour on this arrangement.

Take the very best care of yourselves, don't worry and write me all the news often. With my best love to you all.

Affectionately,

John.

LEUT. GREEN WRITES FROM CALIFORNIA CAMP.

The following interesting letter has been received by Miss Green from her brother, Dr. Thomas Green, now serving as first lieutenant in the medical department of the army and located at Camp Kearney, Cal.

San Diego, California.

June 16, 1918.

Dear Sister:

Your letter received this morning and as I am here alone in charge this afternoon and nothing much to do unless someone is kicked by a mule or gets hurt, will answer your letter.

I suppose Georgia has told you of my being away on a 14 days hike with the ammunition train. We took our entire show and it would remind you of several Barnum shows with our great strings of motor trucks, horses, men, traveling kitchens, and tents and all the other paraphernalia that goes with our outfit. When we came to our camp site it is almost exactly like a big show. We have advance agents and sanitary outfit (that is in this case) to select site and provide water and purchase food and make all arrangements. Only in our case we do not do as the big circus does in regard to pickpockets. An officer in another organization told me he was with Ringling Bros. or some big show. I don't remember, as business agent and they always carried a lot of pickpockets to rob the people and these men divide with the show and the local police by agreement. He said he had nothing to do with that part of it but it was always understood that it was done.

The moment we arrive in a town and reach our assigned place or plot of ground for camp an order is given to throw out Military Police all over the town and it goes sad for anyone doing anything crooked. You don't have a chance to get a lawyer and try the case. The commanding officer is the whole show in that and you are ordered out of camp to our "Whoos Gow" or stockade and you are tried by court martial and there you get cold blooded justice and honest trial. Absolutely nothing goes wrong. You never hear of a robbery when our boys leave town like we used to when P. T. came to Jacksonville.

Dances were provided by the church people in all the towns we stopped in. But the officer gets little advantage of these on account of the officers not being allowed to mix with the men. It is hard for the public to understand this but if they were officers they would soon see how little discipline you can get when you become familiar. It is a case brought home of "Familiarity breeds contempt." The best of officers stand apart from the men and have little to do with anyone except their own staff and those among the officers.

If a lady goes to a hotel dance with an officer where enlisted men and officers are dancing, she is not supposed to dance with anyone but officers, and if she goes with an enlisted man she is supposed to dance with an officer. She is supposed to handle this with tact and not to blurt out, "I am with an officer," or "I am with a private," but simply say "My dances are taken, I am sorry." It was embarrassing at first out here but customs of the service are getting to be very generally understood. All understand now it must be so and it is not because the officers desire it. When it comes to fun and attention the privates get the best all around and the officers are glad of it because the men are more contented and respect the officers all the more.

At one town a big dance was beautifully arranged in a great immense red barn. Our boys had banjos and guitars and they sat on bales of hay and laughed and sang while the others with their girls held our hand the old barn floor in step to the various dances including the Old Virginia reel. The girls came from ranches and neighboring towns in autos and on horseback. Some were pretty and some were homely but they all danced and swung the boys mid the noise of laughing and fun.

At the end of our 30 mile trip was a beautiful small lake that afforded fishing after supper. The last lap of our march was made at night and now I am back in camp doing little but waiting for a big bunch of recruits that come in soon and then O my, how we will sweat for a time.

We never know what will happen to us. The dentist at my organization was ordered last week to Georgia and eleven but two days to arrange his affairs. Some think I will stay and others do not. So there you are.

Love to all.

Your brother Tom D.

RECEIVES PROMOTION.

Word has been received that Joseph R. Wood of Flint, Mich., has received his second promotion since entering Camp Custer.

W. R. Wilson was a traveler from Waverly to the city yesterday.

and is now a member of the living in Jacksonville. He had a brother known as "Ray" Wood.

FIVE IN SERVICE.

There are a number of Morgan county families especially well represented in the army service today but as far as known the H. Cain family is the only one represented by five sons. Merle Cain is with the machine battery, division at Camp Shelby, Oliver Louis and George Cain are with the last contingent to go to Taylor and Thomas D. Cain now with the first squadron of the signal corps at Vancouver barracks, Wash. The last mentioned son has been for several years a resident of Colorado on account of his health. He has another son, is subject to select five draft regulation and will be twenty years old next October. It is quite likely that only a few months hence six sons will be in the service.

In the list of names given a few days ago of those who had returned from Camp Taylor, the name of Raymond Massey was given. It is Carl Massey, cousin of Raymond who was transferred from Camp Taylor.

HERE FROM CAMP SHERMAN.

Harry Salby is here from Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, on a brief furlough. He was transferred there from Camp Taylor and is with the medical corps. He is in fine health and spirits and describes the camp where he is located as equipped in the best possible way. The only other Morgan county man in service near him is George Leonard Elliott, who was also transferred from Camp Taylor.

COMPLETES SPECIAL COURSE.

Ernest Alford, who recently completed the course at Lewis Institute is now at an eastern camp. At the institute he took special training in the repairing of gas engines, that being one of the departments at the institute which is now being conducted by the government. Men in the gas engine department learn first to dismantle and assemble engines and then to do practical work at a garage repair shop which is maintained for the purpose.

W. R. Wilson was a traveler from Waverly to the city yesterday.

the Declaration of Independence.
The service flag for Morgan county, representing more than 1925
men, was presented by H. H. Bancroft, assistant director of the Illinois centennial commission. It was received on behalf of the county by Miller Weir, chairman of the Morgan county local board.
A special program of patriotic music was given by the Liberty band and a special quartet under the direction of H. V. Stearns sang appropriate songs as various floats passed the reviewing stand.
This quartet included Asa Robinson, Robert Shoemaker, C. W.
Lent and Lindsey Williamson.

All the exercises of the day it was the evident sum total of patriotism and to impress the lessons in which the history of Illinois so abounds. There was nothing of the cheap or tawdry
and each float had its meaning and represented not only the expenditure of money but a vast amount of thought and of labor with the hands. No one could view the pageant without having still greater admiration for the state and thinking again of the great debt that the people of the present day owe to the pioneers.

The General Exercises.
The exercises in front of the Ayers National bank were witnessed and enjoyed by as many as could at all get within earshot of the place. On the stand were the persons already mentioned in the Journal. President Rammekamp presided and called on Dr.
J. R. Harker to offer prayer.
"America" was then sung, the Liberty Band accompanying after which President Rammekamp
said:

My Friends and Fellow-Citizens—
This is a noteworthy Fourth of July. We celebrate today the one-hundred forty-second birthday of our nation and the centennial of our state. Meeting under the general auspices of the Morgan county Historical Society, and responding to the proclamations of the President of the United States
and of the Governor of Illinois,
we rekindle the fires of patriotism
and commemorate the great events which have helped to make us a state and a nation.

You have just witnessed in stately, beautiful and impressive form a symbolic reproduction of many interesting episodes in our local, state and national history.
This impressive historical pageant not only recalls to our minds the resting and important events of the bygone age, but it makes us proud to be citizens of historic
"Old Morgan" and of Illinois,
one of the greatest states in the American Union.

Our celebration has also, however, a wider significance. The Fourth of July this year is not only a national but an international celebration. Never before has there been such a world wide observance of our national holiday. Today the public schools of Italy are closed out of respect to the American nation; in France
the day is practically a national holiday; and even our English cousins are uniting with us to celebrate that event which led to the independence of the American colonies and also, as intelligent Englishmen will acknowledge,
to the overthrow of autocratic
government in England itself.

But our eyes turn today not only to the past but also to the present and future. If George Washington and the American colonies faced a stupendous problem in 1776, we also do. President Wilson and the American Nation face a great crisis today.
But thank God, we are a united and powerful nation, with high and unselfish motives, and fighting in the same cause of liberty and democracy for which our forefathers fought in 1776, inspired by their spirit and example, we are firmly resolved to win this war if it takes every ounce of our strength.

Pres. Wilson's Message.
M. F. Dunlap, chairman of the County Red Cross work was the introduced and read in brief. Today people everywhere are celebrating the first signing of the declaration of independence. England, France and Italy and the people of South America because they know the ideals for which this country stands. This country and its allies must succeed in the great conflict or else autocracy will rule the world. I now read you the president's communication on the subject today.

Judge Owen P. Thompson was then introduced as reader of the Declaration of Independence. He said before reading in brief: One of the most inspiring thoughts of the patriot today is suggested by the boys here representing the men in khaki. This is truly a historical document and it will never fail to be a declaration of all the people of all the civilized, liberty loving world. It is truly the magna charta of the people of all countries. It was first read in Philadelphia 17 years ago and now I again read it.

The County's Service Flag.
The service flag was then displayed and presented by H. H.
Bancroft who said:
"History records the fact that no army was ever stronger than the spirit of the people behind that army. The president of the United States by proclamation has urged the people in their several communities to observe this Fourth of July in a spirit of real patriotism. The governor of Illinois has called upon the citizens of Illinois in a like manner and enjoined them to appropriately
observe this Independence Day.
The purpose of these celebrations
is to cause expression in concrete form of the spirit of the nation so that here in Illinois and in neighoring states and thruout the Union the hearts and minds and consciences of the whole people shall beat in unison in recognition of the deep significance of this anniversary."

"One hundred and forty-two years ago the thirteen original colonies gave a declaration to the world such as never had been proclaimed and which has never been surpassed since. They boldly made these declarations when they were poor and weak in everything but the size and the force of liberty.
In 1776 all we had was the spirit of the people. In 1918 we have the spirit of the people, the resources of the richest nation on the globe and an army and navy
of more than two million men,
the greatest military organization
the world has ever seen, because the heart of the soldiers and the heart of the civilian population that supports the soldier beats in the bonds of common sympathy.
Their efforts are united in a common cause, that cause, the cause of humanity and civilization."

"The year 1918 happens to be the centennial year in the history of Illinois as a state. An official centennial celebration has been inception in the year 1818. There was no thought of war then at home or abroad. The year 1918 found the nation at war. Every step taken in the promotion of the centennial has been taken to patriotic music, and every utterance has been along patriotic lines."

"The centennial commission of Illinois has looked forward during the year to just such a patriotic demonstration as has been witnessed by this vast concourse of people here today. We have believed that a patriotic demonstration as has been witnessed by this vast concourse of people here today. We have believed that a patriotic professional pageant setting forth the grand and glorious history of our beloved state would pay a tribute of respect to heroes and leaders of the past and would inspire us of the present generation to greater deeds of service and sacrifice because of our knowledge of their achievements and renown."

The Time for Action.
"But this is no time for words.
This is a time for action I hasten
on in performance of the part assigned to me on this program
as the assistant director of the Illinois centennial celebration:
"Two of the greatest words in the English language are 'Service' and 'Sacrifice.' The best of about these two words is that you cannot use one without the other.
There is no real service without sacrifice and there is no real sacrifice without service. This Morgan County Service Flag which I have the distinguished honor to present to the exemption board of Morgan county is fraught with meaning to me and to all of you far beyond the power of expression thru human utterance. What would dare be so bold as to attempt to measure the duty done,
the valor shown or the heroic deed accomplished by even one of the number represented on this beautiful service flag. The task is too great for me. I simply say all honor to the men who are in the service of their country from grand old Morgan county. Nothing is today or ever will be too good for them. They have our affection, our sympathy, our loyal and wholehearted support on land and sea. Our hopes and aspirations are one. God bless them and keep them. In the fitness of time may they come back to us laurel crowned as members of
of a victorious army after having planted the Stars and Stripes on higher ground than it has ever rested on before. They rest assured that when they do come back they will receive the glad acclaim of a grateful people."

"The gold stars on this flag remind me of the awful toll war of-times takes. We remind ourselves that some have and some must make the supreme sacrifice. We remember them today in the tenderest of memories and we pledge ourselves anew that they shall not have died in vain."

"In behalf of the Morgan County Historical Society, the centennial committee having this celebration in charge and in behalf of the Morgan County State Council of Defense, the donors of the flag, I have the very great honor and pleasure of giving this Morgan County Service Flag into the custody of the local exemption
board of Morgan county."

Paid Tribute to Mothers.
In his brief talk Miller Weir,
chairman of the local exemption board, as his leading thought the contributions of the mothers of Morgan county to the American army, which is forming the history of the world.
"The inspiration for this thought was gleaned from the headlines of a newspaper, such as 'Yankers Now Down For';
'German Dead Left in Heaps After Attack'; 'America has 2,170-400 Men Ready to Fight,' etc., which is surely sufficient reward
for a mother's sacrifice."

Six years ago just around the corner here at the court house,
arrived a man but little known
other than that he was president of an eastern college.
O Those who heard him little thought that within a few years
this man would rule the destiny of the world, thru the American people.

Mr. Wilson, for it is he to whom I refer, speaks today at Mt. Vernon, gathering inspiration from the tomb of George Washington,
where he makes in several sense
an international address. Foreign diplomats are present, and awaiting with breathless silence, for the words to fall from Mr. Wilson's lips, as to the future course of the United States in the adjustment of this world's affairs.
Two of the pictures that have appealed most strongly to me of late are: that of King George of England and his queen standing at the gate of Buckingham palace,
the king at attention, with his hat off, as the American flag and America's first contribution to the allied armies pass by, this being the first time in modern history when a foreign flag flying over foreign armies had been on English soil.
The other picture is one of comfort to mothers who have sons
over there. And it is the picture of the triumphal arch at Verdun and a long line of American soldiers marching thru it.
Over the arch is the only word,
that every Frenchman, man, woman and child, understands, the word "Welcome." Go with me now and see in your minds, this vast column of America's sons
pouring eastward from every city,
village and hamlet for the relief of France and England, and the safety of the world from the oppression of militarism and the barbaric invading hordes of Huns.
The Object of the People.
I know that Mr. Wilson will say today that the one object of the American people, every man, woman and child, is to win the war. To that successful end we should devote our entire thought.
In simple words: go to church,
fight like hell and raise food to feed the allied armies and this nation.
I have been requested as chairman of the local selective service
board, who represent President Wilson, the commander of the army and navy, to accept this Service Flag in behalf of the people of Morgan county. We are proud to be custodians of such a sacred emblem. Truly as sacred as any of the banners that were carried in the crusades of old. And when our boys who have gone out to the holy war of 1918 return to us victorious from Berlin and truly heroes, we will float this flag with pride and reverence at the highest pinnacle of this building."

Don't Let Catarrh Drag You into Consumption

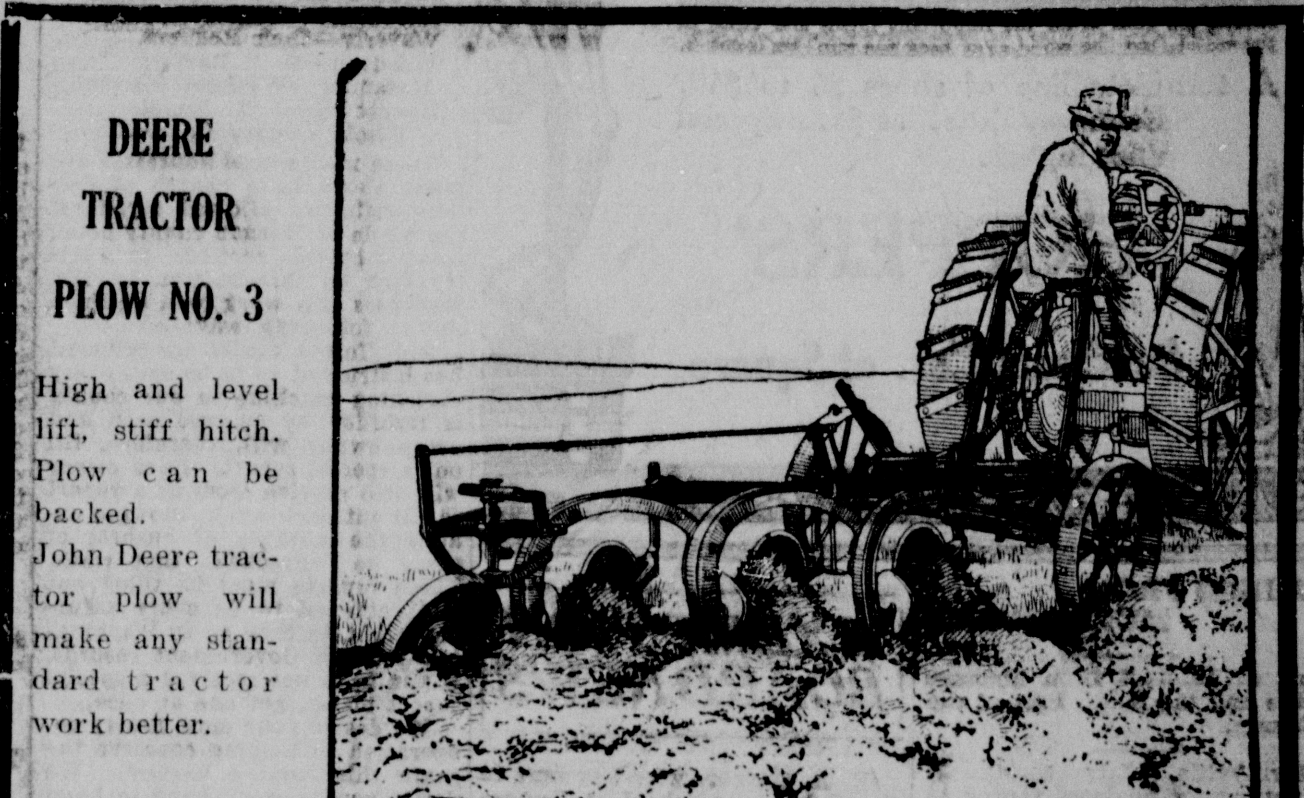

Avoid Its Dangerous Stage.

There is a more serious stage of Catarrh than the annoyance caused by the stopped-up air passages, and the hacking and spitting and other distasteful features.

The real danger comes from the tendency of the disease to continue its course downward until the lungs become affected, and then dreaded consumption is on your path. Your own experience has taught you that the disease cannot be cured by sprays, inhalers, atomizers, jellies and other local applications.

S. S. S. has proven a most satisfactory remedy for Catarrh because it goes direct to its source,
and removes the germs of the disease from the blood. Get a bottle

"ALL WORK" TRACTOR. Burns Kerosene.

The light "Allwork" Tractor is built for all around work in any season of the year. Powerful for heavy plowing—light enough to get out on wet land in early spring or on a soft seed bed for harrowing and seeding—plenty of power for belt work. Here is the practical light-weight, high-power farm tractor. Free from freakish features—runs on four wheels; carries the largest 4-cylinder engine we know of on any 3-plow tractor. It sets crosswise on the frame, thus giving direct gear drive—no bevel gears. Belt pulley is on direct line with crank shaft.

THRESHING WORK IN COUNTY ORGANIZED

Men Appointed to be Responsible for Threshing Conditions in Their Respective Districts—Work Outlined by C. T. Mackness, Thresher Field Man.

The work of threshing the wheat and oats crop of Morgan county is being organized in a way never attempted before. As mentioned sometime since, a meeting of threshermen was held in accordance with the call issued by M. F. Dunlap, county food administrator, and the committee on prices was named and reported. The price of 6c per bushel for wheat was agreed upon. However, the question of price is by no means all that the food administration is interested in, as it is a special concern to see that the crops of the county are threshed with as little loss as possible. A blank form was sent to all threshermen for securing of information about the condition of their machines and also to get a line on some other facts. The administration will keep in touch with these threshermen by securing weekly reports.

Charles T. Mackness was named by Mr. Dunlap as thresher field man and it is his work to secure from the threshermen the needed report. Co-operating with him is G. B. Kendall, county agent. Men were appointed also to take charge of certain districts and they are responsible for general threshing conditions in their districts. These are:

Jacksonville—Amos Kellogg.
Meredosia—William Roegge.
Waverly—Jack Rodgers.
Woodson—S. J. Baxter.
Alexander—William Pierman.
Litterberry—J. T. Sample.
Whole County Covered.

These men whose addresses are given above have charge of certain definite allotted territory, the whole of Morgan county being covered by this service. In a letter sent to threshermen by Mr. Mackness the work was outlined in the following way:

The United States Government has instructed us to be sure every threshing machine in our county is recorded by us, and each and every owner will, therefore, fill out a special report. Each owner will also receive from us a report to fill out each week, showing exactly the number of bushels of grain he threshed that week. These reports must be filled out and returned to us every Saturday night as they go to Washington for the Government records. If you have not received a special report blank, get one at once.

We desire your most hearty co-operation in helping conserve the grain this coming harvest. We desire you to work hand in hand with our friend—the farmer.

Must not Crowd Machine.
Please request every pitcher to use care and not crowd the machine, as irregular feeding and crowding cause considerable loss. Also, throwing bundles promiscuously into the machine makes it impossible to do first class work, and will not allow the beater to separate the grain from the head. Have the pitchers feed the bundles into the feeder first, but not feeding so fast as to make it work sluggishly. To choke down the machine causes untold loss of grain. Feed to keep the machine up to its capacity. Do not allow anyone to rush the work. One job well done is much better than two, poorly done. The main object is to save all the grain. Do not allow any to go over with the straw. Be careful regarding the speed and suction of the windstacker. We will arrange to have an inspector in the field all the time, and he may call on you any day.

Provide yourself with a 12x16 canvas to place under the machine for the wagons to drive over, which will facilitate the cleaning up and save the spilled grain after you are thru threshing. Wheat is very precious and we must save every grain. For our boys "over there" need it. Please phone to Mr. G. B. Kendall, County Advisor, or the writer, any thresherman who you think has not sent in a special report. Also any thresherman who you feel is not doing proper work, after it is completed should be able to say: "Well, I did my best, I know the job is first class." This

FAMILY REUNION HELD IN PEORIA

Mr. and Mrs. David Cummings of 210 West College avenue and their grandson, Master Elwood Hopper, spent the Fourth with Mr. Cummings' mother in East Peoria. This was the occasion of a family reunion in honor of Mr. Cummings' mother's twentieth birthday and also her fifty-sixth wedding anniversary. All of her seven sons except one were present at the union. Besides the sons there were four daughters-in-law, seven grandchildren, one great-grandchild, many nieces, nephews and friends present to honor her. At noon a bountiful dinner was served by the relatives in cafeteria style, except that a table was provided for Mrs. Cummings, her sons and two elderly friends. This was ornamented with a birthday and wedding cake. In all there were fifty-five relatives and friends present.

Numerous gifts were given the guest of honor, who extended her thanks very heartily. During the day several kodak pictures were taken of Mrs. Cummings, with her sons, with her grandchildren and with her Master Elwood Hopper and his two great grandmothers with the Stars and Stripes as a background.

The occasion was one of great enjoyment and will long be remembered by those present.

THE FOURTH AT NICHOLS PARK.

A good many went out to Nichols Park in the morning, July 4th, where there were some games and athletic events under the direction of Fred Darr and Harry Walker of the Y. M. C. A. A good many picnic dinners were enjoyed there also. After the exercises in front of the Avers National Bank it seemed as though everybody who had an automobile and everybody else sought that popular place of resort. The Liberty Band gave a splendid concert which was much enjoyed by as many of the immense throng as could get near enough to hear.

The swimming pool was liberally patronized as could be easily seen considering the coolness of the atmosphere. The playground was alive with little folks and taken all together the evening was quite enjoyable. Such a vast throng had not been anticipated by the park board and policemen were a bit scarce but the immense concourse was handled without a mishap as far as known. One boy went up a small rocket carelessly and it fell among some horses near the band stand but no accidents occurred.

EXEMPTION BOARD NEWS

R. A. Garner, who was sent to the Rahe auto school at Kansas City, has written the board that he is well pleased with the service there. The men at this school are following out strenuous military rules. They spend certain definite hours in their work at the school and then spend other hours in drilling. In this way their time is very fully occupied.

The following classifications have been received by the local board from the district board. The men were all placed in class 4-A by the local board on ground of dependency and they will so remain. The new classifications were given only on the basis of agricultural or industrial claims. As indicated, the status of the men has not been changed so far as the local board is concerned, the jurisdiction of the district board applying to occupation:

Frank Foster; Alexander; placed in class 1-I.
